TO IMPROVE ROAD TO BENTLEYVILLE

Harrisburg, Jan. 18. — Paul D. Wright, Secretary of Highways, today announced that the Department's plans for 1924 construction have been determined upon and other than the projects included in this program none for which the State pays the entire cost of construction will be considered.

The Washington County projects included in the Highway Department's 1924 program are the following:

Replacement with durable type of construction of approximately one and three-fourths miles of Route 108 in the vicinity of Morganza; and approximately three miles of Route 118 in Fallowfield township, which means the main highway between Charleroi and Bentleyville—approximately eight miles.

'During the next three years," Secretary Wright said today, "the Department of Highways believes it will be called upon either to construct, join in the construction, or supervise the construction of approximately 2,400 to 2,600 miles of road. This includes the completion of the entire primary highway system, in which there are 3,942 miles. While this means a larger construction program each year than the Highway Department has ever undertaken, our organization is elastic enough so we do not anticipate any trouble from that source."

Girls In Loan Fund To Help One Another

Pittsburgh, Jan 18—(United Press)—Girl students at the University of Pittsburgh have evolved a novel system for helping each other, which is being tried out for the first time here.

Each of the hundreds of girls at Pitt contributes one dollar a year to the loan fund of the Women's Self Government Association. Pitt has nearly 1,000 girl students, thus making $1,000 available every year for loans to girls hard pressed financially

A girl student needing money may borrow not less than $50 nor more than $200 at one time. The interest is placed at two percent and the money may be returned any time within two years of graduation. The loan is to be used for tuition only. Life insurance is asked as collateral. Miss Thyrsa Amos, dean of women, is the nominal head of the fund, which has received the endorsement of the school authorities because it removes the girls from the grasp of loan sharks.

"CLASS NIGHT" FIRST OF COMMENCEMENT

Graduates Carry Out Playlet In One Act, In Which the History And Prophecy of the Class Are Brought Out

THE COSTUMING IS FINE

The Performance Reflects Credit On the Class—Baccalaureate Services Sunday Night, With the Rev. Dr. Frederick C. Lake Preaching the Sermon

The commencement season opened last evening with the "Class Night" exercises of the Mid-Year class.

The program was carried out in a playlet of one act. The first scene was a farewell meeting of the class. The history and prophecy of the class were brought out in story form.

Genevieve McMahon was Day Dream, while the historians for the Freshmen, Sophomore, Junior, and Senior years were: James Ferguson, Beatrice Greenberg, Gilbert Parks, and Alvera Chalfant. Edward Crumi was the future lawyer, and read the last will and testament. Sarah Welch represented the future artist, and Foster Pyle, the future poet. Alan Brenton carried out the idea of a future musician by rendering a violin solo.

The second scene was a playlet, "Beyond the Gate," in which the characters were: Coreen, Eleanor Berryman; Day Dream, Genevieve McMahon; Idleness, Samuel Crawford; Work, Charles Hall; Pleasure, Beatrice Greenberg; Joy, Alvera Chalfant; Love, Margaret Knight; Discontent, Sara Welch; ailure, Julia Gura.

Coreen was a young girl starting out in life. She had to make her choice between the path of Idleness and Pleasure, and the path of Work, Love and Joy. She first chose Idleness, but found that on that path she could not achieve success, so she comes back to find Work, Love and Joy still waiting for her.

When the curtain rises on the third scene, the class members were again seated on thes tage, continuing the farewell meeting. Samuel Crawford, as donor, presented each class member with an appropriate gift. After that the class song was sung and the program ended with the class yell.

Everyone portrayed their part splendidly, and, although they were somewhat bothered by noise in the audience, the program was pronounced a great success.

There were eight fancies who ad-

Washington, Jan. 18—(United Press)—Permission will shortly be granted Mexican government troops to cross American territory to attack the De La Huerta rebel forces, it was indicated today at the state department.

A CHANGE MEAT from SKINNER'S the Superior MACARONI

LONG DISTANCE HIKES CAN BE TAKEN WITH SAFETY

Allentown, Pa., Jan. 18.—In order to prove that long distance hikes can be taken with safety in spite of the prevalence of motor cars, Lloyd I. Miller, of 507 North Seventh street, this city, will take a week-end jaunt from New York to Philadelphia beginning Saturday morning, January 19.

There is anther reason for his attempting the tramp. Recently, Mr. Miller, who is an enthusiast about two things—walks and contests—won a prize in a national essay contest on "Nothing Takes the Place of Leather" held by the American Sole and Belting Leather Tanners. He is going to prove his arguments by starting from the association's headquarters at Battery Place, New York, and putting his all-leather shoes, that have already traveled 1,000 miles through their paces. He will end by visiting the tanners' booth at the annual convention of the Pennsylvania Shoe Retailers' Association in Lulu Temple, Philadelphia, on January 21.

Mr. Miller, who is better known as "Dutch," is not a professional pedestrian, though he is a veteran. He is employed in the advertising business. Hiking appeals to him simply as the best form of recreation there is. His holiday strolls range between thirty and sixty miles a day. He hasn't had to pay a doctor's bill for ten years, since he was twenty years old.

And he intends to evade the undertaker for quite a long time. "Walking nowadays is a matter of strategy" he said. Keep your eyes open. Walk on the left side of the highway so you can see approaching cars. Use by-ways whenever possible, and you can walk without much danger of being hit."

"Dutch" has drawn prizes in about a dozen contests. "I just read about a contest think it over and then forget it for a week," he said. "Then I write my contribution out of my subconsciousness, if you know what I mean."

"Of course," he added. "I couldn't do this unless I threw myself into it heart and soul. You've got to have real enthusiasm."

The three-days tramp from New York to Philadelphia is an example of Mr. Miller's enthusiasm.

PAPINE BOOKED.

President Butler has announced that, notwithstanding the objections, Piovanni Panini remains booked for a six weeks' summer lecture course on Italian civilization at Columbia University. It seems there was demand that the engagement be cancelled because of Papini's critical comments on the United States, which he is said to have described as "the fatherland of trusts," the "home of millionaire uncles," the "land of the phonograph, of electric street cars, of lynch law," of "the insupportable erson," of "the degenerate Whitman," of "the sickening Longfellow, of "the angelic Wilson," of "the philanthropic Morgan," and of "the undesirable Edison."

If Papini admires Mussolini more than Washington and Wilson, if he [illegible] the Incident D'Annunzio to Emerson and Longfellow, let him. There is no accounting for tastes, and these are insufficient reasons for barring out a brilliant Italian man of letters. We are not as sensitive to criticism as we were in the days of Dickens, Mrs. Trollope and De Tocqueville. We can afford to stand for what we are and let the critical (and sometimes envious) foreigners say what they please to the limit. It is worth while to add that this inconoclastic Papini has written a popular "life of Christ" which, strange to say, is described as reverent and affirmative as well as historically valuable.

SWEEPING JUDGMENT.

Some women in every age drink liuor, a "few ladies on our family trees even smoked," says Dr. Chas. J. Smith, president of Roanoke (Va.) College, but "the world has never known the turning loose of such an army of hard drinking, cigarette puffing, licentious amazons as walk our streets and invade our campuses today." Discussing the "brutally frank social life" of the youth of the time, "the drinking, dancing and social impurity" that have even appeared in theological seminaries, Dr Smith put the following question—causing lively discussion—before the National Lutheran Educational Conference. "What can we do when the daughters of the so-called best people come out attired scantily in clothing but abundantly in paint with a bottle of liquor in their handbags; dance as voluptuously as possible; call for frequent intermissions to give them opportunity to quench their thirst from the bottle, and with the man of their choice engage in violent petting parties in the retreat of a big limousine?"

Dr. Smith is mistaken in assuming that the world has never seen the like, and such goings-on are purely "modern." The world has seen worse in the degeneracy that marked the decay of many ancient civilizations. Apart from the Biblical denunciations of the Sodoms of old, our busy archeologists have long been unearthing proofs of reckless and unscrupulous joy-ruling among the peoples of Egypt, Assyria, Babylon, Phoenicia, Greece, Rome and the rest. Only the other day we read of lipsticks, face powders, rouge-pots and other vanities in the ruins of ancient Carthage. The women of the ancient world paid court to Bachus as well as men, and they did not smoke only because America and tobacco had not been discovered. And in all probability then, as is certainly the case now, the majority of women declined to ape the manners of the "fast set," were decently clothed and modest in behavior. Dr. Smith is in too great haste to identify the many with the relatively few.

A young Filipino saw in a newspaper an advertisement which read:

By LAURA MILLER

THE WIDOW'S MIGHT

Three widows in three different towns faced the problem of income. One sought a manager for her husband's business in the hope a living for both her and the manager would result. One found herself the sort of low-paid job a woman past forty can acquire, and is saving painstaking sums to care for her old age. One, past fifty, took over her husband's factory, and in ten years increased the profits three-fold.

No article can give an unfailing recipe for the secret of such success as Mrs. Charles Knox has made of her universally known gelatin business. It can only tell how the Knoxes did it, for he had helped her greatly during his lifetime. Her husband started the little factory at Johnstown, N. Y. Both had struggled to accumulate. What she saved from her household allowance was always hers. If Mr. Knox needed money, he often borrowed from her—at bank rates. When he consulted her about his business affairs he expected a judgment based on reason. He never "fooled her with praise," she says. But he acted on her opinion.

So much for his part. At his death the boys' future depended on her wise action. And she loved her children. Financially she is canny. She found that Mr. Knox's newspaper, a side [illegible] for the paper were issued from her office when the paper did pay and could be sold at a profit. When she built a concrete factory to replace the old flat wooden one, she planned, not for ostentation and size, but for cleanliness and convenience. It carried on a far larger volume of business with almost the same floor space. When her first contract involved spending $87,000, she learned how to secure the rock-bottom price from the salesman of the other side.

She sets a high standard. Her product, her employees, her son and assistant in the business, even the orchid conservatory at her home—all must pay their way by showing clean-cut efficiency.

She likes the sort of simplicity that often accompanies greatness. Her advertising campaigns have illustrated this. Mr. Knox used to go in for stunts. Mrs. Knox has mainly confined herself to "swapping recipes" as from one woman to other women who love the kitchen.

To women entering business she says: "You must have training or ability or both. Use common sense. Utilize your sex, but don't demand favors on account of it. Keep first thinking of what you can accomplish and you will grow old only half as fast as the woman who worries over what she can't do."

Are You Proud of Your Human Machine

Is it a perfect machine, running smoothly all the time, never stalling, never jarring, never failing to assimilate, always efficiently doing its duty? Or is it a run-down, battered old thing that has lost some of its parts, that is always in need of patching, that works sometimes and falls down on the job sometimes?

Are You Proud of Your Human Machine? Or are you ashamed of its lame, halting way of going about its business? Don't blame it. Don't blame me. Look within yourself. You are to blame if your health is poor and that delicate, wonderfully made machine—your body—does not perform every function naturally, easily and satisfactorily.

There is a cause for every failure of your human machine to function properly. From the brain to every part of the body—to even the minutest cell—there flows a constant stream of vital force of power for proper operation. This force is transmitted through the nerves and it is only by nerve impingement, or pressure, at the point where the nerves emit from the spine, that this force can be hindered or cut off. Subluxations, or displacements, of the vertebrae (small bones of the spine) produce this pressure.

The Chiropractor, by palpation, finds these subluxated vertebrae, and by a movement of the bare hands alone adjusts them back to normal alignment. The nerves are freed of pressure, the vital force is transmitted normally and health results.

Your machine, by adjustment, is put into good working order.

If you suffer from Colds, Coughs, Catarrh, Sore Throat, Tonsilitis and Adenoids, Sore Eyes, and Headache, Stomach and Liver Troubles, Lung, Kidney and Bladder Disturbances, Backache, Loss of Sleep, Rheumatism and Lumbago, come to my office today. See me NOW! Analysis Free.

"West of the Water Tower" is one of the biggest sensations the book world has ever known.

Just imagine the picture possibilities of such an intensely dramatic study of small town life, with its powerful story of reckless love—a story crowded with enough sensational scenes for ten ordinary pictures.

Think of Glenn Hunter, Broadway's favorite young star, as Guy, the town's smartest boy, and May McAvoy as Bee, the town's prettiest girl—who believe their great love is only a matter between them and God—who lock their secret securely in their own hearts—'till Fate whispers the stark truth to the boy's father—a bigoted, rugged minister—who precipitates a tremendous scene that alone could make any picture a smashing success. But this is just one of the many big moments which make this, without doubt, the outstanding picture drama of recent years.

SON RESPONSIBLE FOR FATHER'S DEATH

White Plains, N. J., Jan. 18—A supreme court jury award of $5,000 has ended one of the most unusual civil actions in American courts. The verdict was in favor of Harris Sussman and stipulated the money should be paid him by his brother, Julius Sussman, as damages for the death of their father.

The father, Samuel Sussman, 72, was killed in an automobile accident in July, 1921. The suit was based on the allegations of negligence. Testimony produced at the trial showed that Julius Sussman let his wife drive the car in which the father rode. She went too fast on a curve. The husband grabbed the wheel, turning the machine suddenly back onto the road. It upset and the father received injuries which caused his death three days later.

In Society's Realm

The regular bi-monthly meeting of the Gothic Literary club will be held in the Community room of the Elks club, Monday, January 21 instead of Tuesday, January 22.

Announcement has been received of the marriage in Charleroi on January 10, of George Thompson Chapman of New York, to Miss Betty B. Spencer of Minnesota, with Paul R. Nutt, Justice of the Peace, officiating. The contracting parties are now residing in this borough.

The Jane Allen club members were delightfully entertained last evening in the Sunday School room of the church by Miss Charlotte Horst. Following a short business session the evening was spent in fancy work and social converse. An excellent luncheon was served by the hostess assisted by Miss Eliabzeth Terbush, a visiting guest.

The members of the Emanon club held a meeting at the home of Miss Beatrice Thayer of Crest avenue last evening. A delightful evening was spent in sewing, games and music followed by the serving of a dainty luncheon by the hostess. Appointments were carried out in yellow and white. The next meeting will be held at the home of Miss Sarah Mack, Eighth street, McKean avenue.

Announcement has been made of the marriage of August Lievre of Columbus, Ohio, formerly of Charleroi and Miss Catherine Haseleers of Columbus which took place Wednesday, January 16 in Columbus. Mr. Lievre is very well known in Charleroi and his marriage comes as a pleasant surprise to many friends. For the present they will make their home with the groom's mother, Mrs. Clem Lievre of First street.

A number of girls met at the Elks club last evening for the purpose of organizing a social club. There were 12 girls present and the greater part of the evening was spent in discussing and forming plans for the new organization. It was decided to name the society the Fortnight club, its sessions to be held every two weeks. The balance of the evening was spent in cards, three tables being in play. Miss Frances Bean of Speers was awarded the favor. Miss Maude Kibler and Mrs. Charles Lowsrutter were the hostesses last evening and served a dainty luncheon in the dining room of the club. The next meeting will be held in two weeks, Miss Florence Clark and Mrs. L. T. Fiedler to be the hostesses.

"CLASS NIGHT" FIRST OF COMMENCEMENT

ded much to the entertaining by putting on memory dances between the scenes. The costumes were very pretty, and the colored lights gave the idea of memories. The fancies were: Helen Reeves, Hortense Greenberg, Ruth Fox, Mary Mogan, Catherine Goldsmith, Margaretta Carroll, Elizabezth Stephens and Estelle Carroll.

Miss Johns and Miss Criste helped the pupils prepare the program while Miss Criste trained them.

The Baccalaureate services will be held Sunday evening. The various congregations of the town will unite in a service at the High School at which Rev. F. C. Lake, pastor of the First Christian church, will preach.

Monday evening the class play "Green Stockings" will be given. This play has proved very popular in some sections of the country, but it has never been given in Charleroi. If you have not secured your ticket, buy one from any member of the class and be there Monday evening, as it will be worth your while to witness this play. Tickets will be reserved this afternoon at 4:15.

Thursday, the 24th, the commencement exercises will take place. A member of the Board of Education will present the sixteen members of the class with diplomas, and Dr. W. C. Petty, pastor of the First Baptist church of Pittsburgh, and whom many have heard over the radio, will deliver the address.

The class chose blue and gold as their class colors and the yellow rose as their flower. "Excelsior" is their motto, and they are striving to follow that motto by making this the most successful commencement season any class ever had in C. H. S.

WATCHMAN DID BUT PERFORM HIS DUTY

Daniel Guza, night watchman for the Bethlehem Corporation at Marianna, was commended for faithful performance of his duty and exonerated of any blame for shooting and killing Terry McShane of Leechburg, when he caught the latter in the act of robbing the Miners' store at that place, at the inquest conducted yesterday at the court house by Coroner William Greenlee.

Coroner Greenlee conducted two inquests. Charles M.Ritchie, of Washington, whose automobile hit and killed Miss Mary Patrola, aged 17, of Richill, at Meadowlands, late last Saturday night, also being exonerated. It was shown he was driving carefully and made every effort to keep from hitting the girl.

Guza told the story of the killing of McShane last Sunday morning. The watchman was making his rounds at the time. He noticed that the front blinds in the store had been pulled down and he suspected that something was wrong, as they had not been down earlier in the night. Going to the rear of the building he heard a noise at the side. He had a flashlight in one hand and a 45-calibre automatic pistol in the other.

He turned his light on in the direction of the noise and saw two men loading merchandise into an automobile. He called. "What are you doing there?"

He heard one of them say something and at the same time he flashed his pistol toward Guza. The latter leaped behind the corner of the building and fired twice. He is left handed and when he shot only his gun-hand was exposed. The bandit fired at the same time but missed.

Not knowing that he had hit one of the robbers, Guza went to the residence of J. C. Koontz, an employe of the coal company and they aroused Superintendent Jones The three men then returned to the store. They found a Nash touring car standing on the outside, the other burglar having fled. The machine was well filled with cartons of cigarettes, candy, tobacco, 65 pairs of shoes, and other merchandise.

They heard a groan, and about six feet from the machine discovered a man lying on the ground with a bullet wound in the top of his head Superintendent Jones notified Chief of County Detectives William B Dinsmore, who was on the scene in a short time.

A receipt for a Nash car sold to George Lenhart, of Leechburg was found in an overcoat in the car. Detective Dinsmore believed that this was the name of the man killed and got into communication with the Leechburg police, but learned through a brother that the dead man was Terry McShane. Detective Dinsmore also learned from the Nash agency in Pittsburgh that the car had been sold to Lenhart on December 6, and one payment made on it.

"BIRTH OF A NATION" AT THE MAJESTIC

"The Birth of a Nation," bringing forward David W. Griffith's wonderful art of pictorialized spectacle with music will play the Majestic theatre next Monday, Tuesday, Wednesday, and Thursday This is the great offering that recently established the remarkable record of playing to over 150,000 people in a two weeks' revival at the famous Capitol Theatre in New York City. Nothing like it was ever known before and it is another mark in this extraordinary production which holds the record in so many American and foreign cities

The first half of the spectacle, which was suggested by Thomas Dixon's "The Clansman" exhibits the salient events of the war between the States. The formation of the Confederacy, Lincoln's call for troops, Sherman's march to the sea, the Battle of Petersburg, Lee's surrender to Grant and the awful tragedy of Lincoln's assassination at Ford's Theatre, April 14, 1865, live before the spectator of the Griffith drama.

In the second half of the South's "second uprising"—this time against the carpetbagger regime— is shown in a thrilling story of Reconstruction days The romance of the "little Confederate Colonel," Ben Cameron, with the Northerner, Elsie Stoneman, and that of the Unionist Captain, Phil Stoneman, with Margaret Cameron, the South Carolina lassie, maintains two threads of continuous love-interest throughout the story.

But the great out-of-doors is Mr. Griffith's special field. Tremendous battle scenes and the wild rides of the Ku Klux Klan are staged with thousands of participants. Eighteen thousand human actors, and 3,000 horses were employed in the making of the [illegible] lars and took eight months to produce.

Some idea of its immensity is gained from the fact that there are no less than 5,000 distinct and individual scenes.

SITE OF PARK BEING SOUGHT

Washington, Jan. 18—(United Press)—The proposal to establish a National Park in the east is receiving renewed consideration.

Several bills providing for funds and locations have been introduced in this session of congress. Senator Swanson of Virginia has a bill providing for the use of 5,000 acres centering about High Knob Mountain, Virginia, to be known as Appalachian National Park.

Other bills would authorize the creation of a park of 15,000 acres in the Cumberland Gap region of Virginia, Kentucky and Tennessee, to be known as Lincoln National Park and the acquisition of the land including Mammoth Cave, Kentucky, to be known as Mammoth National Park.

"The recommendation of the Director of the National Park Service in his annual report that a section of the Appalachian Range be established [illegible] widespread interests," said Secretary of the Interior Work, outlining the proposals under way.

"The existing National Park System is the finest in the world. In making any additions sites should be chosen that will be in every respect up to the standard, dignity and prestige of the existing National Parks and National Monuments. A thorough study therefore will be necessary before any definite conclusion can be reached."

FRANCE PICKS ROOSEVELT'S HERO SON AS "IDEAL AMERICAN SOLDIER"

Photograph of the late Quentin Roosevelt, aviator son of the former President, who was killed in combat with a German plane in 1918 The committee has selected him as the ideal of an American soldier in spirit and likeness and a portrait statue of him will be part of the monument to be erected over the ossuary containing the remains of all the unidentified dead from the battlefields of Champagne, the monument containing likenesses of typical French and American soldiers fighting side by side.

How a Soldier Dispersed Attacks

"For two years my stomach trouble was very bad, my doctor had to inject morphine on several occasions when I was stricken with these attacks. Since taking 4 bottles of Mayr's Wonderful Remedy, I have been entirely well and am serving in the artillery, having been pronounced in perfect health by government physicians." It is a simple, harmless preparation that removes the catarrhal mucus from the intestinal tract and allays the inflammation which causes practically all stomach, liver and intestinal ailments, including appendicitis. One dose will convince or money refunded. At all druggists.

TAX FREE

We pay the Government tax of 6c. Merely hand to your dealer the coupon below with 9c and get a package of

20 Lucky Strike Cigarettes

today and tomorrow only for 9c

[NOTE: The United States Government, through the Internal Revenue Department collects 6c on every package of twenty cigarettes as evidenced by the Revenue Stamp.]

Why we want

Every Man in Charleroi

to try Lucky Strike

To men who have not yet tried Lucky Strike

This is not philanthropy, just business. You are introduced to a cigarette today which sooner or later you're bound to try. This merely hastens that happy time. Tear off the coupon now.

We have found that 88% of the men who try Lucky Strike immediately adopt them. So to introduce you to Lucky Strike we can well afford to make this special offer of paying the 6c Government tax today ourselves.

No words can do justice to the Toasted Process in Lucky Strike. It takes us an extra 45 minutes to toast the flavor in, but it takes you only a moment to try the flavor out—the test of the toasting is the tasting.

Smoke this package tax free—you'll get acquainted with a cigarette so balanced in the blend, so mild in the flavor, so smooth in the smoking and so fragrant with the sealed-in-virtues of the toasted process, that you'll change to this brand that never changes—and you'll never change again.

To men who already smoke Lucky Strike

We want you, too, to get this tax free package, maybe to pass it on to a friend who doesn't yet know the pleasure you know.

Let him enjoy Lucky Strike as you do. Tell him to try one package and then see if he agrees with you and millions of others that there's no cigarette with such characteristic superiority.

Tell him why you prefer Lucky Strike. Tell him that the extra 45 minutes of toasting insures a flavor that never varies. He'll find, as you have, that this is a cigarette which can be continuously enjoyed. The flavor never varies.

Some one introduced you to your first Lucky Strike and you recall it as a lucky discovery. So pass the good word along. Give some friend the same opportunity. Tear out the coupon now.
